Hungarian Corn Expands Reach

*Forecasted

 Production + Beginning Stocks - Consumption

* 4-year average

 Year to date

In recent years, Hungary has become one of the top five corn exporters, in contrast to the time when it almost exclusively supplied Eastern Europe and the USSR. Following the fall of the USSR, Hungary was plagued by low yields as infrastructure problems led to decreased input utilization. However, in recent years, an increased ability to afford inputs, improved transportation, and relatively stable domestic feed consumption have allowed Hungary to expand its export focus. Currently, Hungary is not only able to supply Eastern Europe, but has substantially increased shipments to the EU and Mediterranean region. Hungary will be a growing force in the world corn market.

SITUATION AND OUTLOOK: COMMENTARY AND CURRENT DATA

WORLD WHEAT SITUATION AND OUTLOOK

World wheat trade in 2001/02 is forecast to be 107.8 million tons, up 4.4 million tons from 2000/01. Global production is forecast down 4.2 million tons and is expected to remain below consumption for the third consecutive year. Global stocks are forecast down 9.9 million tons from last year to the lowest level since 1996/97.

In early March, export quotes for #2 HRW FOB Gulf averaged $125/MT, the same as last month. Global production is up slightly on a larger Australian crop. Global consumption is forecast down 1.6 million tons while ending stocks are forecast up 2.0 million tons. Global wheat trade in 2001/02 is forecast virtually unchanged from last month with more exports from Canada, Ukraine, and Russia mostly offset by less exports from the United States and the EU. Paradoxically, with this month's higher import estimate, the EU is now also expected to be the world's largest importer.

2001/2002 Trade Changes

Selected Exporters

- ◆ United States down 500,000 tons to 27 million due to the slow export pace, lagging global imports, and intense competition.
- ◆ Canada up 500,000 tons to 16.5 million due to an aggressive export pace.
- ◆ EU down 500,000 tons to 11 million based on the slow pace of export licenses and strong competition.
- ◆ Ukraine and Russia exports up 500,000 tons to 5 million and 300,000 tons to 2.8 million, respectively, due to the strong pace of shipments, especially to the EU.

Selected Importers

- ◆ EU up 500,000 tons to 7 million due to competitively priced imports, even with higher duties on lower quality wheat and falling internal prices.

WORLD RICE SITUATION AND OUTLOOK

Global rice trade for 2002 is projected at 23.1 million tons, an increase of 600,000 tons from last month but down 1.5 million tons from revised 2001. Global ending stocks in 2001/02 are projected to decline to 126.6 million tons as slightly higher world consumption exceeds declining world production (milled basis).

Asian price quotes have weakened over the past month, mostly due to the ongoing harvest of Vietnam's Winter-Spring crop and pressure from low-priced exports from India. Export price quotes for Thai 100B softened slightly over the past month, dropping $4 to $195 per ton. Viet 5% export price quotes have plunged $22 dollars to $169 per ton.

Export price quotes for U.S. long grain grade #2/4 percent have continued to fall and are now $193 (FAS) per ton. Quotes for medium grain #1/4 percent California rice are steady at $270 (ex-spout Sacramento) per ton.

WORLD COARSE GRAINS SITUATION AND OUTLOOK

World coarse grain trade for 2001/02 is projected down more than 2.9 million tons from the previous year to nearly 99.6 million. Global consumption is expected to continue to outpace production and carryout stocks are forecast to fall by 20 million tons. U.S. corn, China corn, and EU barley are forecast to account for nearly two-thirds of world coarse grain stocks. With this month's forecast, the EU is now among the top five importers of barley.

Global corn trade is projected down approximately 3.7 million tons from a year earlier to 71.9 million. U.S. exports are forecast to increase a mere 885,000 tons from 2000/01, as stronger competition from Eastern Europe and Brazil almost offsets reductions from Argentina and China.

2001/02 Trade Changes

Selected Exporters

- ◆ United States corn decreases 1 million tons to 49 million based on slow shipments to date and recently canceled Chinese purchases.
- ◆ Argentina corn up 500,000 tons to 8.5 million as a result of increased production.
- ◆ Hungary corn raised 700,000 tons to 2.5 million due to the rapid shipment pace to date.
- ◆ Romania corn down 600,000 tons to 200,000 based on lethargic, first-quarter shipments.
- ◆ Ukraine barley up 500,000 tons to 2.5 million, the highest in at least 10 years, based on the pace of sales and shipments.
- ◆ Syria barley down 200,000 tons to zero because of a tighter domestic supply situation.

Selected Importers

- ◆ Canada corn up 500,000 tons to 2.8 million based on the strong purchase pace to date.
- ◆ China corn down 750,000 tons to 250,000 as a result of canceled purchases.
- ◆ Mexico corn down 500,000 tons to 5.5 million based on a larger crop and a relatively slow purchase pace to date.

- ◆ Russia corn doubled to 600,000 tons due to strong domestic feed demand.
 - ◆ South Korea corn up 300,000 tons to 7 million due to strong demand.
 - ◆ Venezuela corn decreased 200,000 tons to 900,000 as a result of government corn restrictions.
 - ◆ EU barley up 200,000 tons to 700,000, the highest since 1988/89, as Black Sea exporters take advantage of temporary zero import duties and relatively high domestic prices.
 - ◆ EU sorghum down 200,000 tons to 100,000 based on slow Spanish import licenses to date.
