Eastern Europe Fills Void Left by Hungary in Global Corn Market

MMT Eastern Europe Exports Surge

MMT Hungary's Exports Shrink

Note: Includes Bulgaria, Croatia, Romania, Serbia and Montenegro, Ukraine

After consecutive bumper crops, East European corn producers have rapidly become important regional suppliers. It also doesn't hurt that they are close to many Mediterranean markets and therefore hold a comparative freight and shipping advantage over larger, global, market suppliers, i.e., the United States and Argentina. However, the balance of corn trade shifted when Hungary and Slovakia joined the European Union. Rather than exporting 2.2-2.5 million tons of corn annually, their farmers have found it more profitable to sell surpluses to government (intervention) storage at a guaranteed price which has been higher than market or export prices. So, without internal transportation or export subsidies, intervention corn stocks in Hungary and Slovakia have soared to over 5 million tons, while exports to non-EU markets are down to a trickle. Other EU countries have increasingly turned to Eastern Europe, covering 40 percent of imported corn needs from there last year, compared to only 8 percent before Hungary's accession to the EU.

WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE: COMMENTARY AND CURRENT DATA

WHEAT: WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE

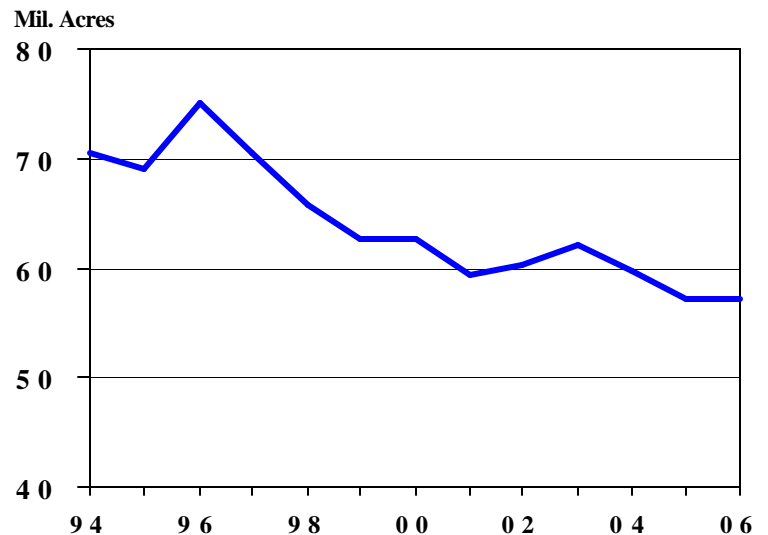

MONTHLY HIGHLIGHTS:

U.S. All-Wheat Acreage Down Slightly:

Wheat planted area is expected to continue to decline in 2006, as stated in the NASS Prospective Plantings report on March 31. If realized, it would be the lowest wheat area in more than 30 years. Winter area was up, as better planting conditions allowed for a large increase in Soft Red Winter.

However, this is more than offset by smaller spring area, primarily durum. Durum area is expected to fall by a third to the lowest level since 1961. Canada is also expecting a large decline in durum area, as large stocks and low prices make other crops more attractive.

U.S. Wheat Acreage Down Slightly

PRICES:

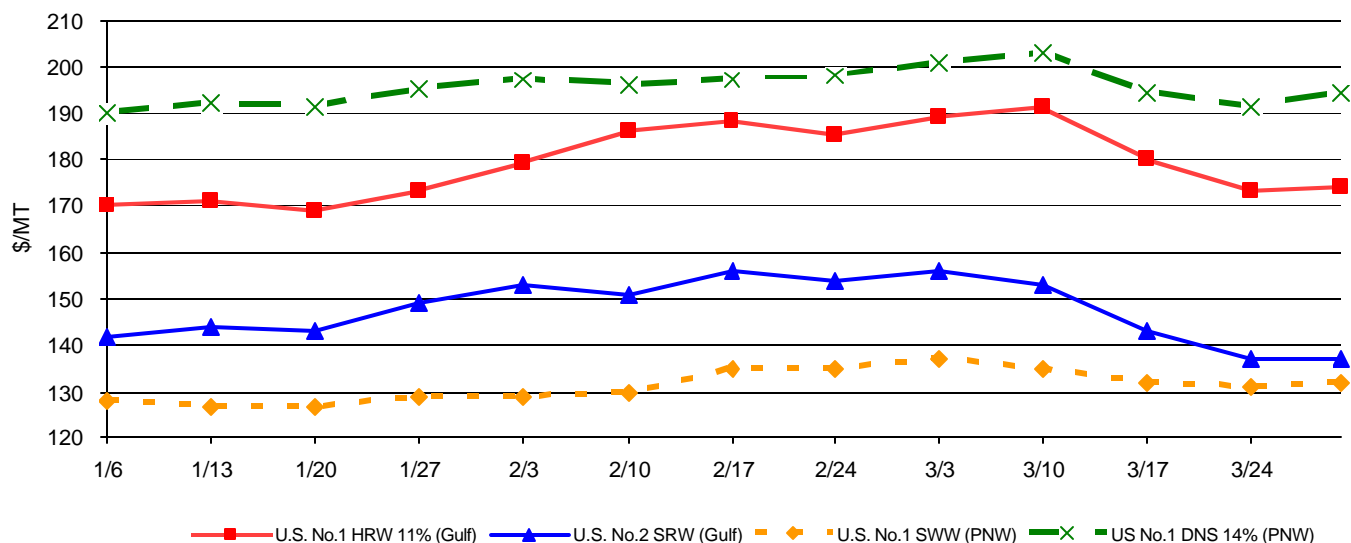

Domestic: Prices dropped for all wheat classes in March, driven largely by rains and an improving outlook for the Hard Red Winter crop. For the month, HRW prices fell $15 per ton, with SRW down $19 per ton, HRS down $7 per ton and Soft White down $5 per ton.

RICE: WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE

PRICES:

International: Asian prices are slightly weaker this month. Thai prices dropped $3 from last month to $306 per ton, FOB, mainly due to currency fluctuations. Despite government efforts to bolster sagging export prices, Viet prices dropped $4 to $243 per ton, FOB.

Domestic: U.S. long grain prices strengthened $5, with #2/4 currently quoted at $373 per ton, FOB. This brings the price spread between Thai and U.S. rice to $67 per ton. Meanwhile, U.S. medium grain prices have slipped $40 to $475 per ton, FOB, as most of the business to East Asia has been completed.

Nominal Price Quotes - 2002 to Present

COARSE GRAINS: WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE

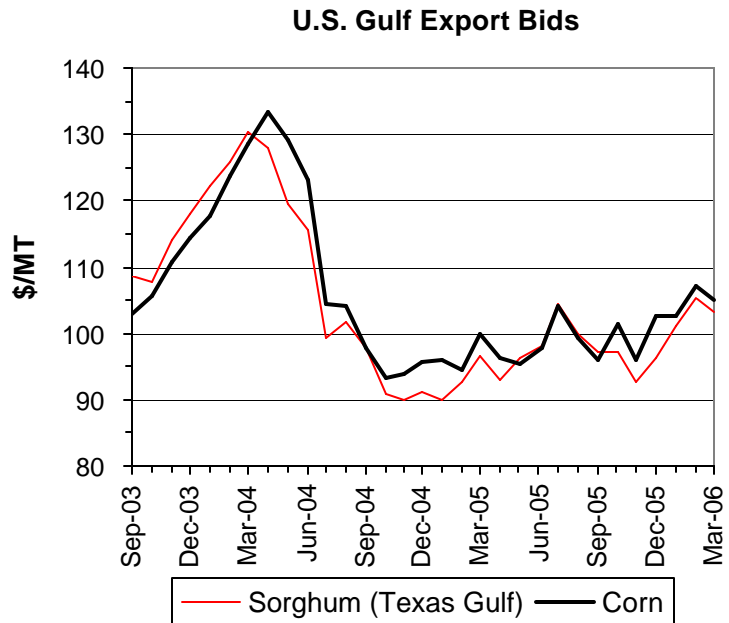

MONTHLY HIGHLIGHTS:

World corn trade is unchanged, but the United States gains 1 million tons at the expense of Argentina.

PRICES:

Domestic: March export bids for #2 yellow corn were down $2 per ton to $105. Bids for #2 yellow sorghum (Texas Gulf) were down the same amount to $103 per ton.

Corn prices fell slightly during the month but continue to be supported by strong export sales and record domestic demand. In addition, the March 31 Prospective Plantings report was bullish because of a larger-than-expected cut in 2006 acreage. Lingering concerns over bird flu, large feed grain supplies, and renewed talk of exports from China have kept prices in check.

Sorghum prices have been supported by relatively strong sales to Mexico, by food aid business, and by the corn market.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2005/2006

Selected Exporters

- United States corn is up by 1.0 million tons to 50.5 million, the highest in 7 years, due to Argentina's relative uncompetitiveness. Argentina corn is down by 1.0 million tons to 10.0 million, the lowest in 4 years. Its current crop is forecast to be the smallest in 7 years.
- Serbia corn is down 200,000 tons to 800,000 because of smaller production. However, both exports and production are forecast at record levels.
- Cambodia corn is up by 200,000 tons (to 200,000) on the basis of reported trade to the region.

- United States barley is up 100,000 tons to 400,000 because of new sales to Saudi Arabia.
 - Australia sorghum is down 200,000 tons to 300,000 because of slow shipments, competition from the United States and Argentina, and strong domestic feed demand.
 - United States sorghum is raised 300,000 tons to 4.8 million because of strong sales and shipments in March, especially to Mexico.

Selected Importers

- Indonesia corn is down 100,000 tons to 400,000, the lowest in 13 years, because of higher forecast production.
- Philippines corn is doubled to 200,000 tons based on reports of recent sales and shipments.
- Zimbabwe corn is more than doubled to 900,000 tons, the highest level in more than a decade, because of brisk imports from South Africa.
- EU sorghum is down 150,000 tons to 75,000, the lowest in 4 years, with slack demand from Spain. Imports under the duty abatement system are usually completed by April.
- Mexico sorghum is up 200,000 tons to 3.5 million on a surge of sales and shipments (about 350,000 tons) during March.

Stocks, exports, and consumption are expressed on a milled basis in marketing years. Trade is on a milled basis in calendar years. "Stocks as a Percent of Consumption" represents the ratio of marketing year ending stocks to total consumption.

OTHER NOTES

Stocks: Unless otherwise stated, stock data are based on an aggregate of differing local marketing years and should not be construed as representing world stock levels at a fixed point in time.

Consumption: World totals for consumption reflect total utilization, including food, seed, industrial, feed, and waste; as well as differences in marketing year imports and marketing year exports. Consumption statistics for regions and individual countries, however, reflect food, seed, industrial, feed, and waste only.

EU Consolidation: The trade figures for the EU-25 for the years 1999/00 through 2002/03 are inflated by the two-way trade between the two groups (EU-15 and acceding 10). Over the past 6 years, this “intra-trade” has averaged about 700,000 tons for wheat, 350,000 tons each for corn and barley, and 150,000 tons for rye. The trade figures also include intra-trade between members of the acceding 10. From 2003/04 onward, all intra-trade has been removed.

Statistics: (1) Wheat trade statistics include wheat, flour, and selected products on a grain equivalent basis. (2) Rice trade statistics include rough, brown, milled, and broken on a milled equivalent basis. (3) Coarse grains statistics include corn, barley, sorghum, oats, rye, millet, and mixed grains but exclude trade in barley malt, millet, and mixed grains.

Unaccounted: This term includes grain in transit, reporting discrepancies in some countries, and trade to countries outside the USDA database.
