Tight EU Grain Market Causes Prices to Climb

*Includes carry-in stocks minus sales to date out of intervention

EU grain supplies have tightened this year as a result of smaller coarse grain and wheat crops as well as lower carryin stocks. This domestic tightness has combined with reduced global supplies to cause EU prices to climb to 10-year highs. In response, the Commission has begun selling intervention grain onto the domestic market to help curb prices. Attractive international prices have also allowed the Commission to sell large amounts of intervention grain for export, at prices about $50 above acquisition cost. These combined sales are leading to a dramatic drawdown in intervention stocks, particularly for wheat and barley. Furthermore, it is unlikely that much will be sold into intervention this year because domestic prices are far higher than the intervention price.

Despite the tight domestic situation, grain exports out of the EU are still expected to be up slightly as attractive prices for export and reduced competition (especially from Australia) pull EU supplies onto the world market.

Meanwhile, EU coarse grain imports are climbing this year in light of smaller domestic supplies; corn and sorghum import licenses are way ahead of last year's pace as these imports are currently able to come in with very low duties.

Circular Modifications:

The Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) will update its production, supply and distribution database for cotton, oilseeds, grains and pulses along with its downloadable data sets at 9 a.m. on the day the World Agricultural Supply and Demand Estimates (WASDE) report is released. It is available on the FAS website (<http://www.fas.usda.gov/psdonline/>). This circular will be released at 9:30 a.m. on the same day. This is an effort to speed up FAS information dissemination to more closely coincide with the release of the WASDE. FAS will evaluate this earlier release process to determine if it should be made permanent in 2007.

WHEAT: WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE

MONTHLY HIGHLIGHTS:

Supplies in Key Competitors Revised Up this Month: Upward revisions in the supplies of Argentina and Canada boost global exportable supplies this month. Production in both countries was raised 1 million tons each with Canadian supplies now expected to be near 15-year highs.

Australian Wheat Board (AWB) International to Lose Veto Power for 6 Months: Prime Minister (PM) John Howard announced on December 5, 2006, that Agriculture Minister Peter McGuaran will assume AWB International's veto powers. The company traditionally used its veto to deny applications from rival exporters who wish to sell Australian wheat. During the next three months, the Australian government will consult with the industry over a range of options about future marketing arrangements. Currently, there are three schools of thought on how to resolve the issue: 1) the single-desk should be maintained; 2) the single-desk should undergo immediate and full deregulation; and 3) a more conciliatory approach to review all options on the table.

PRICES:

Domestic: For November, wheat prices fell early in the month on slow export sales but then recovered on concerns over new crop conditions as well as support from high corn prices. For the month, Hard Red Spring (HRS) prices rose $9 per ton, Hard Red Winter (HRW) rose $5, Soft Red Winter (SRW) prices were unchanged, and Soft White (SWW) prices fell $2.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2006/2007

Selected Exporters

- Argentina is up 500,000 tons to 9.5 million on higher expected production. Early season sales have been very strong.
- United States is down 500,000 tons to 25.5 million as exportable supplies are raised in key competitors Argentina and Canada, and shipments and sales to date have been very sluggish.

Selected Importers

- Brazil is up 200,000 tons to 7.5 million on sharply lower production. Brazil is expected to be the top importer in 2006/07.

COARSE GRAINS: WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE

MONTHLY HIGHLIGHTS:

Supplies in Key Corn Suppliers Revised Up this Month: Competitor crops for 2006/07 (Argentina, Brazil, Ukraine) were raised 3.5 million tons and Canada's crop was raised 500,000 tons, resulting in 4 million tons of additional global supplies and a 1.4-million-ton gain in world trade. Production estimates for Argentina and Brazil, both old and new crop corn, were raised over 4 million tons this month, adding 1.7 million tons to their exports in 2006/07.

World Rye Trade Continues to Shrink: World rye trade is forecast to fall to a 25-year low this year as EU exports are revised down again this month. With high domestic rye prices and the Commission selling supplies onto the domestic market, sales for export have been slow. EU intervention stocks have fallen from 5 million tons just a few years ago to less than 500,000 tons currently.

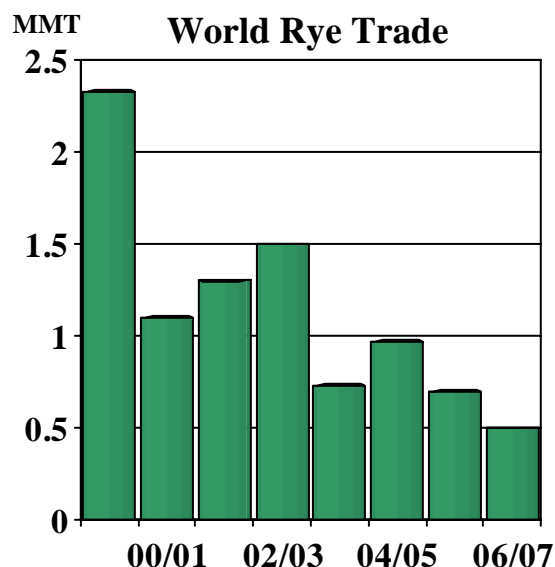

PRICES:

Domestic: November export bids for #2 yellow corn again soared by over $20 per ton to $164, the highest in over 10 years. The escalation continues with strong domestic and foreign demand, and slack competition from China and Argentina.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2006/2007

Selected Exporters

- Australia barley is lowered 400,000 tons to 2.3 million on reduced exportable supplies. Carryin stocks were revised down this month in light of a recent survey from the Australian Bureau of Statistics.
- Argentina corn is up 1.0 million to 12.0 million because of a higher new crop production forecast and a revised old crop estimate.

- Brazil corn is raised 500,000 tons this month to 3.5 million because of larger new and old crop supplies and a fast export pace to date.
 - Ukraine corn is up 200,000 tons to 2.0 million. Greater supplies will likely result in higher exports, despite government action to restrict licenses.
 - EU-25 corn is slashed 350,000 tons to 150,000 (and imports are raised) with high domestic grain prices.
 - Ukraine barley is lowered 400,000 tons to 4.3 million as government export policy has reduced shipments in recent months.

Selected Importers

- Canada corn is cut by 500,000 tons to 2.3 million because of a larger crop.
- South Korea corn is up 300,000 tons to 8.8 million based on greater supplies from Argentina and Brazil.
- EU-25 corn is raised 500,000 tons to 3.5 million based on the pace of import licenses. This is nearly triple from last year and the accession of Bulgaria and Romania will likely increase corn trade to the EU-25.
- Iran barley is down 200,000 tons to 600,000 and Israel, Libya, and Syria are each down 100,000 as a result of very high global barley prices and reduced availability from major suppliers.
- Mexico sorghum is down 200,000 tons to 2.7 million, the lowest in 10 years, due to the slow pace of purchases and shipments from the United States.
- EU-25 sorghum is up 100,000 tons to 325,000 due to the fast pace of import licenses and purchases from the United States.

OTHER NOTES

Stocks: Unless otherwise stated, stock data are based on an aggregate of differing local marketing years and should not be construed as representing world stock levels at a fixed point in time.

Consumption: World totals for consumption reflect total utilization, including food, seed, industrial, feed, and waste; as well as differences in marketing year imports and marketing year exports. Consumption statistics for regions and individual countries, however, reflect food, seed, industrial, feed, and waste only.

EU Consolidation: The trade figures for the EU-25 for the years 1999/00 through 2002/03 are inflated by the two-way trade between the two groups (EU-15 and acceding 10). Over the past 6 years, this “intra-trade” has averaged about 700,000 tons for wheat, 350,000 tons each for corn and barley, and 150,000 tons for rye. The trade figures also include intra-trade between members of the acceding 10. From 2003/04 onward, all intra-trade has been removed.

Statistics: (1) Wheat trade statistics include wheat, flour, and selected products on a grain equivalent basis. (2) Rice trade statistics include rough, brown, milled, and broken on a milled equivalent basis. (3) Coarse grains statistics include corn, barley, sorghum, oats, rye, millet, and mixed grains but exclude trade in barley malt, millet, and mixed grains.

Unaccounted: This term includes grain in transit, reporting discrepancies in some countries, and trade to countries outside the USDA database.
