U.S. Soybean Prices Fall as Buyers' Focus Turns to South America

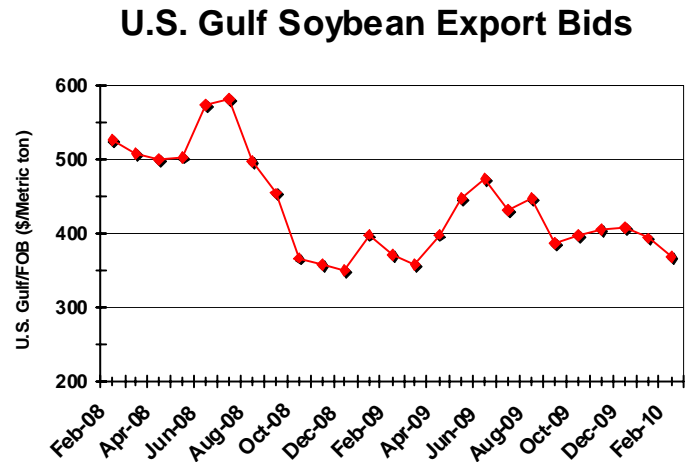

U.S. soybean prices, after holding nearly steady since mid-October, have begun a steady decline that has shaved 15 percent off the Central Illinois cash price since early January. Prices broke the $9/bu level in early February, the first time since mid-March if you exclude a brief two-day post harvest drop in early October. This fall in price is attributed to a slowdown in demand. With a record South American crop poised to enter the market, foreign buyers, particularly China, have turned their focus to Brazil and slowed their purchases of US soybeans. Meanwhile, encouraged by strong profit margin, domestic processors are crushing beans at a record pace, which has added some support to prices. However, as competition from South American processors intensifies, U.S. crush margins are expected to weaken, which would lead to further erosion in soybean prices in coming months.

PRICES

U.S. soybean export bids, FOB Gulf, in the first week in February averaged $368 per ton, the lowest since February 2009. Prospects of record crops in South America and seasonal shift in China's buying demand resulted in lower export bids.

As of the week-ending January 28, 2010, U.S. soybean sales commitments (outstanding sales plus accumulated exports) to China totaled 21.5 million tons, compared to 13.9 million a year ago. Total commitments to the world amounted to 34.9 million tons compared to 24.4 million the same period last year.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2009/10

- U.S. soybean exports are up 0.7 million tons to a record 38.1 million supported by strong shipments and sales to date primarily to China.
- Brazil's soybean exports are up 1.3 million tons to 25.3 million with prospects of a record exportable supplies and early-season export demand.
- Argentina's soybean exports are cut 2.0 million tons to 7.9 million as an anticipated quick start in exports by Brazil reduces competitiveness of Argentine beans.
- China's soybean imports are up 0.5 million tons to 42.5 million due mainly to stronger shipments from the U.S.
- Canada's rapeseed exports are raised 0.3 million tons to 6.5 million in response to strong exports, mainly to China.
- Ukraine's rapeseed exports are up 0.2 million tons to 1.8 million supported by rising demand in the EU.
