

Oilseeds: World Markets and Trade

Vietnam's Growing Soybean Meal Production Reduces Imports

Demand for imported soybean meal is forecast to fall as new processing facilities come on-line in Vietnam. Already, we have seen a sharp increase in soybean imports in preparation for the opening of the first of two processing plants. Meal production is expected to grow through the latter-half of 2011 and attain peak production the following year. The full impact on meal imports will be felt in 2012 with an anticipated reduction in trade around 20 percent. This figure would be lower if not for continued growth in meal demand driven by expansion in the pork, poultry and aquaculture sectors. Although initial soybean sales have come predominately from South America, there remains opportunity for future growth in U.S. sales to the region.

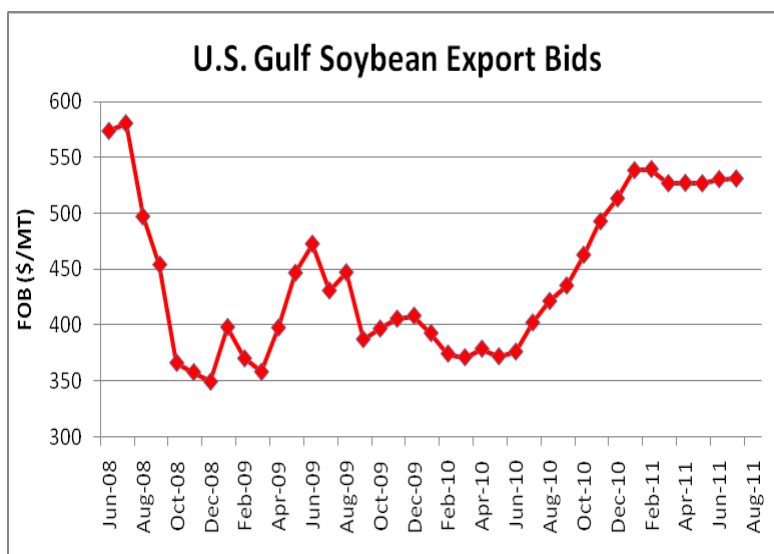

OVERVIEW

Global soybean trade is expected to marginally rise this month, supported by demand in Vietnam and stronger exports by Brazil. However, U.S. exports are lower. Global production is lowered as crop reductions in the United States and China more than offset gains in Brazil. Global demand for soybean meal is expected to be strong, while eases for oil. U.S. season average price is at a record.

SOYBEAN PRICES

U.S. export bids, FOB Gulf, in July averaged $531 per ton, about the same level seen for the past months. Despite the continued slow pace of shipments, July prices were supported by crop prospects and strong demand for other crops, primarily corn.

As of the week-ending July 28, U.S. soybean commitments (outstanding sales plus accumulated exports) to China totaled 25.5 million tons, compared to 22.8 million a year ago. Total commitments to the world are 41.7 million tons compared to 40.7 million for the same period last year.

2011/12 TRADE OUTLOOK

- U.S. soybean exports are slashed 2.6 million tons to 38.1 million on reduced crop and increased projected supplies in South America this fall.
- Brazil's and Argentina's soybean exports are boosted 2.5 million tons to 36.5 million and 500,000 tons to 11.8 million, respectively on expectations of strong shipments this fall and lower supplies in the United States.
- Vietnam's soybean imports are up 1.0 million tons to 1.4 million to reflect rising crush demand.
- EU-27 soybean imports are cut 700,000 tons to 12.6 million on reduced U.S. supplies.
- Ukraine's rapeseed exports are cut 400,000 tons to 1.4 million on a smaller crop.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2010/11

- U.S. soybean exports are cut 680,000 tons to 40.7 million on continued slow shipments.
- Brazil's soybean exports are reduced 1.0 million tons to 29.9 million as the shipment pace to China remains slow.
- EU-27 soybean imports are down 700,000 million tons to 13.1 million due to the slower pace.
- Vietnam's soybean imports are boosted 300,000 tons to 700,000 spurred by demand for crush.
